Dear Homeowner,

We wanted you to be aware that your current estate agent has recently indicated that they will no longer be promoting their properties on the UK's two largest property websites; Zoopla and Rightmove.

We list every property on all major websites including; Zoopla, Rightmove and our own national site, Propertywide, so as to provide our clients with optimal on-line coverage.

With 93%* of buyers now beginning their property search online we believe that this form of marketing is likely to have a positive contribution in attracting a buyer and achieving the best price.

We would be delighted to discuss on a no obligation basis how we can assist you with the sale of your property. Please call us today to arrange a convenient time for us to meet with you.

Yours faithfully,

Branch Manager
